

Fifth Sunday after Epiphany

1. In both the Old Testament and Gospel readings, why did both Peter and Isaiah feel overwhelmed in the presence of God?

2. In his vision, Isaiah was in the throne room of God. He records the following about his vision:
 - a. Seraphim angels
 - b. The train of God's robe
 - c. Archangels
 - d. the voice of God

3. Peter had fished all night but caught nothing. Jesus who was teaching along the shore, got into his boat. Then Jesus told him to cast his net and Peter:
 - a. only got a couple fish
 - b. got enough to feed his family and those who were watching
 - c. had so many fish to pull in that he had to call James and John to help.
 - d. had so many fish that the net broke and he lost most of the fish.

4. In the presence of our all knowing, ever present and almighty God, people should:
 - a. confess their sins and ask for forgiveness.
 - b. tell God to ignore their sins and love them anyways.
 - c. thank God for His blessings but leave them alone.
 - d. ignore God all together and just think positive thoughts.

5. (T/F) As Christians, we all have a high calling to witness to others like the saints before us.

6. At Our Savior's Way, we are blessed to:
 - a. have an attractive building in a good location.
 - b. have programs that address the needs of those around us.
 - c. have a vision and mission statement that gives us direction.
 - d. have fishing nets that need to be mended.

7. In order to fulfill my calling as a fisher of men, I plan on catching a "fish." The person that I will pray about and deepen my relationship with is:
